PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Results-driven Frontend Engineer with extensive project management experience and a strong technical background.

Since 2022, I have thrived as a Project Manager at an offshore development company, delivering custom software solutions and collaborating closely with technical teams.

With a background in diverse technologies and a 6-month full-stack coding bootcamp, I excel at converting design concepts into functional, user-friendly interfaces. My experience has sharpened my analytical skills and dedication to client satisfaction.

I am keen to apply my project management and technical skills as a Frontend Engineer to create seamless, responsive, and engaging user experiences.
